IRS Releases Levy on Templeman Property

After a contentious multi-year battle with the property owners, including a failed attempt to auction the property last week the Internal Revenue Service has issued a Release of Levy on the Ram in the Thicket restaurant and inn in Milford, NH. The property is owned by Andrew and Priscilla Tempelman.

Steven A. Swan of Auburn, NH was instrumental in getting the IRS to release the Levy on the Templeman property through the Freedom of Information Act by requesting that the IRS provide documentation which authorizes them to seize and sell a person's property for nonpayment of the federal income tax. The IRS was unable to provide such documentation.
