- The purpose of this document is to establish facts in support of the reasonable conclusion that:
- 1. Submitter is not engaged in a "trade or business" or any other taxable activity that might make him subject to the terms of the Internal Revenue Code.
 - 2. Submitter is a "nonresident alien"
- 3. Submitter is not a "citizen" or "resident" under the Internal Revenue Code
- Submitter is a "nontaxpayer" who is not "liable" to pay any monies to either the state or federal government under the authority of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code.
 - 5. Submitter is not subject to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and "foreign" with respect to it.
 - 6. The Internal Revenue Code qualifies as "legislation".
 - 7. Federal government has no legislative jurisdiction within states of the Union.
 - 8. States of the Union are "foreign" with respect to federal legislative jurisdiction.

This document consists of a series of factual statements supported by accompanying evidence. This form of inquiry is called an "admission" in the legal field. The person receiving this document must provide an "Admit" or "Deny" answer to each factual statement. The government, who is the moving party in this case, has the burden of proving the existence of jurisdiction and liability PRIOR to attempting any enforcement or collection actions against the submitter:

TITLE 5 - GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION AND EMPLOYEES
PART I - THE AGENCIES GENERALLY
CHAPTER 5 - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE
SUBCHAPTER II - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE

Sec. 556. Hearings; presiding employees; powers and duties; burden of proof; evidence; record as basis of decision

(d) Except as otherwise provided by statute, the proponent of a rule or order has the burden of proof.

Any oral or documentary evidence may be received, but the agency as a matter of policy shall provide for the exclusion of irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence. A sanction may not be imposed or rule or order issued except on consideration of the whole record or those parts thereof cited by a party and supported by and in accordance with the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence. The agency may, to the extent consistent with the interests of justice and the policy of the underlying statutes administered by the agency, consider a violation of section 557(d) of this title sufficient grounds for a decision adverse to a party who has knowingly committed such violation or knowingly caused such violation to occur. A party is entitled to present his case or defense by oral or documentary evidence, to submit rebuttal evidence, and to conduct such cross-examination as may be required for a full and true disclosure of the facts. In rule making or determining claims for money or benefits or applications for initial licenses an agency may, when a party will not be prejudiced thereby, adopt procedures for the submission of all or part of the evidence in written form.

The questions are structured in such a way that the only answer that is consistent with the evidence and context of each question is "Admit". To answer "Deny" is to argue against the supporting evidence provided for each question. The answer provided to each admission must be consistent with all the factual evidence provided and if it is not, the responding party must explain in the "Clarification" area of their answer why the evidence provided in support of the question is incorrect or not trustworthy.

- At the end of the admissions, the recipient who completes these questions should sign under penalty of perjury, as required by 26 U.S.C. $6065. Failure of the person completing the questions to sign the legal birth name under penalty of perjury shall constitute an "Admit" to every question.
- 45 If the recipient of these admissions is not authorized to answer them, then the submitter insists that:
 - 1. They be provided to someone within the receiving organization who can respond to each question.

- 2. That a letter be sent to the person who sent them the questions providing contact information of the person who will be responding to the admissions.
- Note that this document does not constitute:

1. An attempt to impede the lawful administration of either state or federal revenue law. Instead, it is an attempt to ensure that the government respects and observes all of the Constitutional and lawful limits upon their authority to collect revenues and thereby fulfills its only function to protect and defend the Constitutional rights of all Americans.

"It is not the function of our Government to keep the citizen from falling into error; it is the function of the citizen to keep the government from falling into error."

[American Communications Association v. Douds, 339 U.S. 382, 442. (1950)]

- 2. An "argument" about anything, but simply a restatement of what the law and the courts say about a particular subject. Consequently, it is absolutely pointless to accuse the submitter of being "frivolous". To accuse the submitter of being frivolous would indirectly be an admission that the government is lying to the public, because all questions are backed by evidence derived directly from the government.
- 3. A request for legal advice. More than adequate evidence is provided in support of each admission to establish the answer to each question in a way that is completely consistent with prevailing law and judicial precedent.

Finally, if additional authorities are cited for a particular conclusion in response to each question, the person answering the questions must observe the same constraints as the IRS itself in regards to the authority of cases cited. The constraints it must operate under are as follows, from the Internal Revenue Manual off the IRS website:

"Decisions made at various levels of the court system... may be used by either examiners or taxpayers to support a position... A case decided by the U.S. Supreme Court becomes the law of the land and takes precedence over decisions of lower courts... Decisions made by lower courts, such as Tax Court, District Courts, or Claims Court, are binding on the Service only for the particular taxpayer and the years litigated. Adverse decisions of lower courts do not require the Service to alter its position for other taxpayers."

[Internal Revenue Manual (IR.M.), Section 4.10.7.2.9.8 (05/14/99)

2 INSTRUCTIONS TO RECIPIENT

- 1. For each question, check either the "Admit" or "Deny" blocks.
- 2. Add additional explanation in the "Clarification" block at the end of the question. You are also encouraged to add additional amplifying exhibits and explanation to your answers, and reference the sectionnumber and question number in your answers.
- 3. Any question left unanswered shall be deemed as "Admit" and constitute a default pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 8(b)(6). To wit:

33 III. PLEADINGS AND MOTIONS > Rule 8.
34 Rule 8. General Rules of Pleading
35 (b) Defenses; Admissions and Denials.
36 (6) Effect of Failing to Deny.
37 An allegation — other than one relating to the amount of damages — is admitted if a responsive pleading is 38 required and the allegation is not denied. If a responsive pleading is not required, an allegation is considered 39 denied or avoided.

- 4. If the whole questionnaire is left unanswered, then the answer to all questions by the recipient shall be deemed to be "Admit" and constitute a default under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(b)(6).
- 5. Sign and date the end using blue original ink.
- 43 6. Photocopy.
 - 7. Retain the copy for yourself and give the original to the requester.

- 4 found at:
- 5 http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/03-Discovery/Deposition/Deposition.htm
- 1. Admit that the federal government has no legislative jurisdiction within states of the Union according to the U.S. Supreme Court.

8		"It is no longer open to question that the general [federal] government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart,
9		247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of
10		the internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation. "
11		[Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]
11		[curier v. curier com co., 270 o.s. 230 , 30 s.c. 033 (1730)]
12
13		"But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this
14		commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation [or taxation] nor any direct control . This power
15		belongs exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a
16		State is warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly
17		granted to the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive
18		power of the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It
19		is given in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports,
20		and it must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus
21		limited, and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing
22		subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it."
23		[License Tax Cases, 72 U.S. 462 , 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]

41		good behavior, it necessarily follows that, if Congress authorizes the creation of courts and the appointment of
42		judges for limited time, it must act independently of the Constitution upon territory which is not part of the
43		United States within the meaning of the Constitution."
14		[O'Donohue v. United States, 289 U.S. 516, 53 S.Ct. 740 (1933)]
45

1		The earliest case is that of Hepourn V. Elizey, 2 Cranch, 443, 2 L. ed. 532, in which this court neta that, under
2		that clause of the Constitution limiting the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States to controversies between
3		citizens of different states, a citizen of the District of Columbia could not maintain an action in the circuit court of the United States. It was argued that the word 'state.' in that connection, was used simply to denote a distinct
4		political society. 'But,' said the Chief Justice, 'as the act of Congress obviously used the word 'state' in reference
5		• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •
6		to that term as used in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to inquire whether Columbia is a state in the sense of that instrument. The result of that examination is a conviction that the members of the American
7		confederacy only are the states contemplated in the Constitution, and excludes from the term the
9		signification attached to it by writers on the law of nations.' This case was followed in Barney v. Baltimore, 6
0		Wall. 280, 18 L. ed. 825, and quite recently in Hooe v. Jamieson, 166 U.S. 395, 41 L.Ed. 1049, 17 Sup.Ct.Rep.
1		596. The same rule was applied to citizens of territories in New Orleans v. Winter, 1 Wheat. 91, 4 L. ed. 44, in
2		which an attempt was made to distinguish a territory from the District of Columbia. But it was said that 'neither
3		of them is a state in the sense in which that term is used in the Constitution.' In Scott v. Jones, 5 How. 343, 12
4		L.Ed. 181, and in Miners' Bank v. Iowa ex rel. District Prosecuting Attorney, 12 How. 1, 13 L. ed. 867, it was
5		held that under the judiciary act, permitting writs of error to the supreme court of a state in cases where the
6		validity of a state statute is drawn in question, an act of a territorial legislature was not within the contemplation
7		of Congress."

interfere with or affect private contracts or engagements bona fide and without fraud previously formed.' The same provision, adds the Chief Justice, found more condensed expression in the prohibition upon the States [in Article 1, Section 10 of the Constitution] against impairing the obligation of contracts, which has ever been

51 52

1 2 3 4 5 6 7		recognized as an efficient safeguard against injustice; and though the prohibition is not applied in terms to the government of the United States, he expressed the opinion, speaking for himself and the majority of the court at the time, that it was clear 'that those who framed and those who adopted the Constitution intended that the spirit of this prohibition should pervade the entire body of legislation, and that the justice which the Constitution was ordained to establish was not thought by them to be compatible with legislation [or judicial precedent] of an opposite tendency.' 8 Wall. 623. Slavery implies involuntary servitude—a state of bondage; the ownership of mankind as a chattel, or at least the control of the labor and services of one man for the benefit of another, and the absence of a legal right to the disposal of his own person, property, and services. This amendment was said in the Slaughter House Cases, 16 Wall, 36, to have been intended primarily to abolish slavery, as it had been previously known in this country, and that it equally forbade Mexican peonage or the Chinese coolie trade, when they amounted to slavery or involuntary servitude and that the use of the word 'servitude' was intended to prohibit the use of all forms of involuntary slavery, of whatever class or name."
